Focus Ireland is a housing and homeless charity working to prevent people becoming, remaining, or returning to homelessness through the provision of quality services, supported housing, research and advocacy. Founded in 1985 by Sr Stanislaus Kennedy, Focus Ireland believes that everyone has a right to a place they can call home which is safe, secure, affordable and appropriate to their needs.

Our mission
Focus Ireland aims to advance the rights of people out-of-home to live in a place they can call home through quality services, research and advocacy.

Our vision
Focus Ireland believes that everyone has the right to a place they can call home.

Fundraising
Your support helps prevent people from becoming homeless, provides support for thousands who are homeless and helps provide a place to call home for hundreds who experienced homelessness.

Without the generous support of thousands of people, companies, clubs, societies and organizations, Focus Ireland would not be able to provide the support, prevention and housing services to all the men, women, young people and children who need our services in 2008.

Thank you all for your vital and enthusiastic fundraising efforts during 2008, our full financial report for 2008 can be read in the annual report. The total of over €5.7 million has helped us to sustain our services, and to continue to deliver the support and help required.

Focus Ireland is a housing and homeless charity working to prevent people becoming, remaining, or returning to homelessness through the provision of quality services, supported housing, research and advocacy. Founded in 1985 by Sr Stanislaus Kennedy, Focus Ireland believes that everyone has a right to a place they can call home which is safe, secure, affordable and appropriate to their needs.

Our mission
Focus Ireland aims to advance the rights of people out-of-home to live in a place they can call home through quality services, research and advocacy.

Our vision
Focus Ireland believes that everyone has the right to a place they can call home.

Fundraising
Your support helps prevent people from becoming homeless, provides support for thousands who are homeless and helps provide a place to call home for hundreds who experienced homelessness.

Without the generous support of thousands of people, companies, clubs, societies and organizations, Focus Ireland would not be able to provide the support, prevention and housing services to all the men, women, young people and children who need our services in 2008.

Thank you all for your vital and enthusiastic fundraising efforts during 2008, our full financial report for 2008 can be read in the annual report. The total of over €5.7 million has helped us to sustain our services, and to continue to deliver the support and help required.

Focus Ireland is a housing and homeless charity working to prevent people becoming, remaining, or returning to homelessness through the provision of quality services, supported housing, research and advocacy. Founded in 1985 by Sr Stanislaus Kennedy, Focus Ireland believes that everyone has a right to a place they can call home which is safe, secure, affordable and appropriate to their needs.

Our mission
Focus Ireland aims to advance the rights of people out-of-home to live in a place they can call home through quality services, research and advocacy.

Our vision
Focus Ireland believes that everyone has the right to a place they can call home.

Fundraising
Your support helps prevent people from becoming homeless, provides support for thousands who are homeless and helps provide a place to call home for hundreds who experienced homelessness.

Without the generous support of thousands of people, companies, clubs, societies and organizations, Focus Ireland would not be able to provide the support, prevention and housing services to all the men, women, young people and children who need our services in 2008.

Thank you all for your vital and enthusiastic fundraising efforts during 2008, our full financial report for 2008 can be read in the annual report. The total of over €5.7 million has helped us to sustain our services, and to continue to deliver the support and help required.

Focus Ireland is a housing and homeless charity working to prevent people becoming, remaining, or returning to homelessness through the provision of quality services, supported housing, research and advocacy. Founded in 1985 by Sr Stanislaus Kennedy, Focus Ireland believes that everyone has a right to a place they can call home which is safe, secure, affordable and appropriate to their needs.

Our mission
Focus Ireland aims to advance the rights of people out-of-home to live in a place they can call home through quality services, research and advocacy.

Our vision
Focus Ireland believes that everyone has the right to a place they can call home.

Fundraising
Your support helps prevent people from becoming homeless, provides support for thousands who are homeless and helps provide a place to call home for hundreds who experienced homelessness.

Without the generous support of thousands of people, companies, clubs, societies and organizations, Focus Ireland would not be able to provide the support, prevention and housing services to all the men, women, young people and children who need our services in 2008.

Thank you all for your vital and enthusiastic fundraising efforts during 2008, our full financial report for 2008 can be read in the annual report. The total of over €5.7 million has helped us to sustain our services, and to continue to deliver the support and help required.

Focus Ireland is a housing and homeless charity working to prevent people becoming, remaining, or returning to homelessness through the provision of quality services, supported housing, research and advocacy. Founded in 1985 by Sr Stanislaus Kennedy, Focus Ireland believes that everyone has a right to a place they can call home which is safe, secure, affordable and appropriate to their needs.

Our mission
Focus Ireland aims to advance the rights of people out-of-home to live in a place they can call home through quality services, research and advocacy.

Our vision
Focus Ireland believes that everyone has the right to a place they can call home.

Fundraising
Your support helps prevent people from becoming homeless, provides support for thousands who are homeless and helps provide a place to call home for hundreds who experienced homelessness.

Without the generous support of thousands of people, companies, clubs, societies and organizations, Focus Ireland would not be able to provide the support, prevention and housing services to all the men, women, young people and children who need our services in 2008.

Thank you all for your vital and enthusiastic fundraising efforts during 2008, our full financial report for 2008 can be read in the annual report. The total of over €5.7 million has helped us to sustain our services, and to continue to deliver the support and help required.

Focus Ireland is a housing and homeless charity working to prevent people becoming, remaining, or returning to homelessness through the provision of quality services, supported housing, research and advocacy. Founded in 1985 by Sr Stanislaus Kennedy, Focus Ireland believes that everyone has a right to a place they can call home which is safe, secure, affordable and appropriate to their needs.

Our mission
Focus Ireland aims to advance the rights of people out-of-home to live in a place they can call home through quality services, research and advocacy.

Our vision
Focus Ireland believes that everyone has the right to a place they can call home.

Fundraising
Your support helps prevent people from becoming homeless, provides support for thousands who are homeless and helps provide a place to call home for hundreds who experienced homelessness.

Without the generous support of thousands of people, companies, clubs, societies and organizations, Focus Ireland would not be able to provide the support, prevention and housing services to all the men, women, young people and children who need our services in 2008.

Thank you all for your vital and enthusiastic fundraising efforts during 2008, our full financial report for 2008 can be read in the annual report. The total of over €5.7 million has helped us to sustain our services, and to continue to deliver the support and help required.
Focus Ireland worked with over 5,500 people nationally in 2008 in what proved to be a challenging year. The impact of the recession saw additional hardships for many of the most marginalised in our society at the very time funding for support services became tighter.

We still achieved a great deal during the year and delivered 123 homes for families and 11,656 bed nights for adults and children. The means test we can provide a place to call home for 382 households in Dundrum, Mount Merrion, Carrickmines, Blanchardstown, Coolouragh and Finglas. Highlight of 2008 included a new development of 27 homes in Finglas and the development of the Haven Hotel in Dundrum. Members of our Treasurer’s Group and Advisory Panel visited a further 112 households in order to make homes sustainable to meet future demands.

Much of our work is geared to prevent people from becoming homeless or to reduce the number of new families coming into our services and to ensure that we can continue to help people to escape homelessness. Focus Ireland is always working hard to advance policy positions and to demonstrate the effectiveness of our work in meeting the key needs of our customers.

Focus Ireland’s vision is that everyone has a right to a place they can call home. The impact of the recession saw additional hardships for many of the most marginalised in our society at the very time funding for support services became tighter. We still achieved a great deal during the year and delivered 123 homes for families and 11,656 bed nights for adults and children. The means test we can provide a place to call home for 382 households in Dundrum, Mount Merrion, Carrickmines, Blanchardstown, Coolouragh and Finglas. Highlight of 2008 included a new development of 27 homes in Finglas and the development of the Haven Hotel in Dundrum. Members of our Treasurer’s Group and Advisory Panel visited a further 112 households in order to make homes sustainable to meet future demands.

Focus Ireland's vision is that everyone has a right to a place they can call home. The impact of the recession saw additional hardships for many of the most marginalised in our society. Focus Ireland worked with over 5,500 people nationally in 2008. Many people are coming to Focus Ireland seeking support as the impact of the recession is being felt in homes across Ireland. More people are in need of housing and at risk of becoming homeless.

Focus Ireland's services are geared to support people in preventing homelessness to support others to move out of homelessness. Focus Ireland's services are focused on preventing people from becoming homeless or to reduce the number of new families coming into our services and to ensure that we can continue to help people to escape homelessness. Focus Ireland's vision is that everyone has a right to a place they can call home. The impact of the recession saw additional hardships for many of the most marginalised in our society at the very time funding for support services became tighter. We still achieved a great deal during the year and delivered 123 homes for families and 11,656 bed nights for adults and children. The means test we can provide a place to call home for 382 households in Dundrum, Mount Merrion, Carrickmines, Blanchardstown, Coolouragh and Finglas. Highlight of 2008 included a new development of 27 homes in Finglas and the development of the Haven Hotel in Dundrum. Members of our Treasurer’s Group and Advisory Panel visited a further 112 households in order to make homes sustainable to meet future demands.

Focus Ireland has worked hard to build on past experiences to enhance our model of housing and homeless services to help ensure long-term homelessness will be eliminated.

Focus Ireland is always working hard to advance policy positions and to demonstrate the effectiveness of our work in meeting the key needs of our customers. Focus Ireland’s vision is that everyone has a right to a place they can call home. The impact of the recession saw additional hardships for many of the most marginalised in our society. Focus Ireland’s services are geared to support people in preventing homelessness to support others to move out of homelessness. Focus Ireland’s services are focused on preventing people from becoming homeless or to reduce the number of new families coming into our services and to ensure that we can continue to help people to escape homelessness. Focus Ireland's vision is that everyone has a right to a place they can call home.

Focus Ireland works with over 5,500 people nationally in 2008 in what proved to be a challenging year. The impact of the recession saw additional hardships for many of the most marginalised in our society at the very time funding for support services became tighter.

We still achieved a great deal during the year and delivered 123 homes for families and 11,656 bed nights for adults and children. The means test we can provide a place to call home for 382 households in Dundrum, Mount Merrion, Carrickmines, Blanchardstown, Coolouragh and Finglas. Highlight of 2008 included a new development of 27 homes in Finglas and the development of the Haven Hotel in Dundrum. Members of our Treasurer’s Group and Advisory Panel visited a further 112 households in order to make homes sustainable to meet future demands.

Focus Ireland's vision is that everyone has a right to a place they can call home. The impact of the recession saw additional hardships for many of the most marginalised in our society. Focus Ireland’s services are geared to support people in preventing homelessness to support others to move out of homelessness. Focus Ireland’s services are focused on preventing people from becoming homeless or to reduce the number of new families coming into our services and to ensure that we can continue to help people to escape homelessness. Focus Ireland's vision is that everyone has a right to a place they can call home. The impact of the recession saw additional hardships for many of the most marginalised in our society. Focus Ireland’s services are geared to support people in preventing homelessness to support others to move out of homelessness. Focus Ireland’s services are focused on preventing people from becoming homeless or to reduce the number of new families coming into our services and to ensure that we can continue to help people to escape homelessness. Focus Ireland's vision is that everyone has a right to a place they can call home. The impact of the recession saw additional hardships for many of the most marginalised in our society.

Focus Ireland works with over 5,500 people nationally in 2008 in what proved to be a challenging year. The impact of the recession saw additional hardships for many of the most marginalised in our society at the very time funding for support services became tighter.